Honorary Degrees Awarded by Varsity

3 Others Bury In Week-end Mishaps

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A severe hurricane with winds more than 100 miles an hour at the centre and gale winds extending outward 200 miles from the core roared toward the Florida coast at 15 miles an hour Monday after lashing the western tip of Cuba Sunday.

The storm will enter the Florida west coast between Fort Meyers and Tampa about midnight and sweep northward through the state, the federal warning service at Miami predicted.

The hurricane centre was placed about 140 miles southwest of Key West with winds of 50 miles an hour at Key West and 25 miles an hour at Miami.

As the storm approached the Florida Keys, a fleet of Red Cross trucks, escorted by state police, rumbled over the overseas highway to bring out all who elected to leave their island homes for shelter in either Miami or Key West.

Residents of Key West and Fort Myers braced for the blow. Windows were boarded up and disaster relief workers were placed on the alert.

Others in the southern sector of the neck of Florida stretching southward from the mainland to Key West were instructed to secure their homes and boats and board buses for city shelters.

Delivery of Farm Products Is Resumed Over Alberta

Alberta Farmers' Union pickets were withdrawn from the 100-acre market road Monday after 30 days of activity that frequently resulted in violence. Interference with the flow of agricultural products to market ceased as the farmers' strike came to an end.

Packing plants, egg dealers, grain elevators and other dealers in farm products said Monday that it still was too early to give a final optimistic report as to the effect of the strike ended. The smaller towns were hardest hit by the non-delivery of farm products and it was expected that the worst situation would soon be back to normal.

Meanwhile A.P.U. officials claimed that an achievement of the strike was legislative government acceptance of the union's demand for changes in the size and personnel of the Agricultural Prices Support Board. Original demand in the strike was for the appointment of a farm producer to the board. The smaller towns were hardest hit by the non-delivery of farm products and it was expected that the worst situation would soon be back to normal.

Five northern Alberta residents were killed and three seriously injured in two traffic accidents Saturday. One, a head-on collision between two cars near Athabasca, 120 miles northeast of Edmonton, in which four of the five were killed, was listed by R.C.M.P. in Edmonton as "the most serious Alberta highway accident in 1946."

Rev. Father Ben Marchant, Roman Catholic priest at Bonnyville.

Oswald Bissonette, 30, St. Paul. John Skurham, Ashmont. Mrs. John Skurham, Ashmont. Joseph A. Granger, 67, Tangent.

Elizabeth Skurham, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Skurham. Cecil Bellville, station agent at Ashmont. Father Marchant, Oswald Bissonette and Mr. and Mrs. Skurham died in the St. Paul hospital where they were taken after the accident which occurred at 6:30 p.m. on the highway, three miles east of Ashmont.

The priest was alone in his car at the time. The Skurhams, Bissonette and Bellville were passengers in John Skurham's car.

This accident occurred on a straight roadway. One of the cars was proceeding in a steep hill; the other was going down. Police believe the collision occurred on a curve in the road.

Funeral services for the four who died will be held at 10 a.m. Monday in the St. Paul hospital where they were taken after the accident which occurred at 6:30 p.m. on the highway, three miles east of Ashmont.

Urge Rural Electrification To Attract Britons to Farms

Police Find Body Of Grain Buyer

VIRIDIAN, MAN. (CP)—Body of a C. Diamond, 50-year-old Bellevue, Man. grain buyer, was found in the exhibition grounds here Sunday by R.C.M.P.

The district coroner said there were several marks on Diamond's face which led to the belief he had been fighting with an assailant. He said there was a suspicion of foul play.

Pope Pius Denies Forced Conversion

CARLETON, ONT. (AP)—Pope Pius denied Sunday that he ever had approved "forced conversions" to Roman Catholicism in Yugoslavia, as charged by the prosecution at the trial in Zagreb of Archbishop Alojzije Stepinac on war crime charges.

At the same time the pope declared that the loudest proponents of "tolerance" and "freedom of conscience" were often the quickest, in gaining power, to oppress Catholics. He did not mention Russia or the Soviet system by name, but these remarks generally were interpreted as being directed at Communism.

The pontiff's assertions were contained in a speech to the members of the secret Roman rite, the high church court whose main date lay back in the history of Catholicism. He spoke at the summer apostolic palace here, 15 miles from Rome.

Turning to marriage and divorce one of the matters reserved to the civil tribunals—the pope said again that civil courts had no right to terminate Catholic church marriages.

Even among the non-baptized (non-Catholic), marriages legitimately contracted are in the natural order a sacred thing, so that the civil tribunals have not the power to dissolve them.

He said, however, that the church would recognize, in determined circumstances, civil annulments.

LONDON, (CP)—The National Farmers' union, major organization of British farmers, will seek approval of a £72,000,000 (£218,000,000) program of rural electrification to help keep present workers on the land and attract new ones.

The N.F.U. blamed poor response to the government training scheme for new farmers on rural housing conditions.

The proposed five-year program would carry electricity to 150,000 holdings and to communities of 100,000 people, said the N.F.U. statement.

"It is the experience of thousands of farmers that unless they can afford to employ the unskilled labor that is today taken for granted in urban centers of population (and which are completely non-existent in large areas of the countryside) they cannot obtain or retain the type of labor which the industry requires," said the N.F.U. statement.

Farm labor difficulties were thrown into high relief by crop difficulties this year, with slow harvesting where rain had beaten the grain into the soil.

The bread grain harvest is said to be the worst since the calamity of 1897 and the outlook for home-grown winter feeding "stuffs is grim," the union said.

"The effect on the milk supply cannot be estimated but the position is serious, the hay crop having been almost a complete failure in many northern and western areas and much of the oil crop ruined."

War prisoners, overworked on agricultural leave and voluntary labor all had been called in to assist the harvest, the hay crop having been almost a complete failure in many northern and western areas and much of the oil crop ruined.

3 Bank Robbers Given 10 Years

PRINCE ALBERT, (CP)—Three men who hold up the Nipawin Bank, branch of the Bank of Montreal at gun-point Sept. 14 and escaped with $20,000, were sentenced Saturday to 10 years each in the penitentiary with hard labor.

The three, who had pleaded guilty last Saturday to a charge of armed robbery, were William Dunn, 23, of Hamilton, Stanley Kuchak, 20, of Brandon, and Peter Minosky, 24, of no fixed address.

All but about $1,000 of the amount stolen had been recovered the night before the hold-up led to their capture.

They were visiting a former Hamilton family and toward midnight one of the three said: "Well, we have to be going now. We have to be in Nipawin before morning."

Australia housing Commission hopes to build an average of 70,000 to 80,000 houses annually for the next 10 years.

Poll Finds Cooler Feelings Between Britain and U.S.

By American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N.J.—Henry A. Wallace's recent critical remarks about Britain raise the question of whether the people in United States feel more friendly or less friendly toward Britain today than a year ago.

The truth is that the main people in the United States have shown a marked cooling off toward Russia, U.S. ally in the Second Great War as reported by the Calvinian Institute) and also some cooling off toward Britain.

About six in 10 say they feel less friendly toward Russia than they did a year ago when the war ended. Three in 10 say they feel less friendly toward Britain today than a year ago.

This is probably a national post-war phenomenon for the same trends can be found in Britain when people are asked about their feelings toward United States and Russia.

In measuring sentiment in the United States, the Institute had field reporters in all parts of the nation ask a representative sample of voters this question:

"Are your feelings toward Britain more friendly or less friendly than they were a year ago?"

More friendly 8%
About the same 53%
Less friendly 39%

No opinion 9%

In Britain, the same general cooling off was found when the same question was asked by the British Institute of Public Opinion. If a cross-section of British voters:

British Feel Towards U.S.
More friendly 11%
About the same 51%
Less friendly 32%

Statehood Issue In Alaska Vote

JUNEAU, Alaska, (AP)—Alaska's so-called "canoe vote" was expected Monday to swell the demand for statehood in Tuesday's general election, first time the issue has come before the United States territory's voters.

Although opposed by prominent businessmen as too costly for the small population at this time, statehood has the backing of numerous groups who have carried on a vigorous campaign. The Alaska Statehood association has spearheaded such efforts.

The proposal has topped in interest in an election which also will name a delegate to the United States congress.

Convict Bercovitz Of Manslaughter

MONTREAL, (CP)—Louis Bercovitz, charged with murder in the July 29 gun-slaying of gambler Harry Davis, was convicted by a jury Saturday night of manslaughter. He will be sentenced Oct. 29 by Mr. Justice Weir-Laurie.

Bercovitz, who testified in his own behalf that he shot Davis in self-defense in Davis' betting house, took the verdict calmly.

The trial opened last Tuesday. A score of witnesses were called by the crown and half a dozen by the defense.

The defense built its case largely on Bercovitz' own testimony that he heard he was blamed by Davis for a gambling attempt on another gambling place, that he was "on the spot" and American gamblers were being imported to "set" him.

Bercovitz claimed he went to see Davis about these reports, that Davis threatened him and drew a gun. In the struggle Bercovitz fired.

The crown claimed there was no provocation and that Bercovitz used the rumors about himself as an excuse to visit Davis with a gun.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN REVIEWS CADETS ON WEEK-END VISIT AT WEST POINT

THE GOBLINS WILL GET YOU—Or so they say. But with Halloween rolling around again this month, we can't think of a less threatening "spook" than Ruth Ott who brews her "witch's potion" above. When she's not watching her cauldron boil, Ruth works for the Honeywell Co. in Minneapolis, Minn.

DORMS WERE NEVER LIKE THIS—Ex-GIs at all of the nation's colleges are having to live in make-shift homes because of this year's huge enrollment. These students at Northwestern University smile as they move into a former Steeplecraft cottage.

ENGLAND'S WALL RADIO—Among the latest British ideas for more comfortable living in the post-war world is this radio set designed as a wall decoration. It was one of the exhibits at the "Britain Can Make It" show in London.

TEEN-AGE FASHIONS—Betty Wilson, left, and Shirley Fisher of St. Louis wear the latest togs in leisure-time wear for high-school students—hand-painted blue jeans. Motives and insignia are reminiscent of yesteryear's decorated bright yellow slickers.

EX-MARINE SGT.—Lovely Merrill Towne, Boston, Mass., is one of the many entrants in the "Miss American Veteran" beauty contest in New York City. All are ex-servicewomen.

BOLLING UP FOR THE FAIR—This prize Hereford shankle at the photographer while she is having a shampoo prior to entering the National Hereford show at the Southeastern World's Fair in Atlanta. Brown Hartman, Pulaski, Tenn., is giving the heifer the beauty treatment.

Canada's Best Agriculturists Said Going to United States

Canada is losing many of her best agriculturists to the United States, due largely to the lower salaries paid in the Dominion to research specialists, C. Gordon O'Brien, Ottawa, general secretary of the Agricultural Institute of Canada, said in an interview here Monday.

MR. O'BRIEN WILL ADDRESS the Edmonton branch of the institute at a meeting in the Corona hotel Monday at 8 p.m. Although federal authorities increased salaries somewhat in recent years they are still far below those paid to agricultural experts in the U.S., Mr. O'Brien stated. As a result there has been a steady loss of agricultural research brains.

Federal assistance to agriculturists in the province should not be looked upon as a grant but rather as an "investment."

MOVIES NO SPENT HAVE paid rich returns, particularly that spent on plant breeding research, Mr. O'Brien declared.

U.K. Conservatives Conflict on Policy

By James McKee
BLACKPOOL, Lancs., England, (CP)—A heart-searching, three-day conference of the Conservative party conservative party conference opened Saturday with wild enthusiasm among 2,700 delegates after a fighting speech by Winston Churchill and his announcement that he will continue as party leader as long as he has the necessary strength.

Veiled Conservatives said they had never seen anything like this annual conference which Col. Oliver Stanley, conference president, said met at a time of "crisis in our party history." Instead of suggestions from party head-quarters and leaders, the conference being readily accepted, there were frequent questions and criticism from the convention floor.

Mr. Churchill was not present at the convention debates but demands for policy statements were reported to him. He said he did not believe in looking for a panacea on which party fortunes should be staked and which the party would try to sell to all. "The party ought to seek after a rigid commercial form of doctrine as the party was not suited to the British temperament."

The convention was exuberant and restless compared to similar conferences in Canada, but the delegates said the circumstances were unusual in that never before had there been such a tug of war between those wishing new party policies and those wishing to stand by the old ideas.

Brooks Man Head Of Weekly Editors

LETHBRIDGE, (CP)—The 19th convention of the Alberta division, Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, ended here Sunday after publishers attending the convention made a trip to Waterton Lakes national park escorted by members of the Lethbridge Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Clive Nesbitt, Brooks, was elected president of the Alberta division. He succeeds A. H. Avery of Tanager, William H. Smith of Wetaskiwin, was named first vice-president and John Huxell, Innisfail, second vice-president.

Other members of the executive are A. Balliol, Cochrane; P. Fitchett, Edmonton; C. McLean, Strathmore, and W. Newton, Olds.

A report on a proposed apportioning act for Alberta for weekly newspapers was adopted by the gathering and a committee appointed to make necessary revision. Members on the committee were: John Drayner, B. P. Knowles, Fort Saskatchewan; W. Beaumont, Red Deer, and Thomas Logan of High River.

It was decided to take advantage of the facilities offered by the vocational training school at Red Deer which is operated under the trade area division.

Sunday evening a banquet was held here with the provincial government as host. Present were Hon. A. J. Hooke, provincial secretary; Dr. Campbell, director of publicity, and other government officials.

Losos Fire on Rescue Plane Seeking Airliner Prisoners

CHUNGKING, (AP)—Savage Lolo tribesmen of China's wild west have captured an American pilot and 31 other persons from a crashed Chinese airliner and struck and routed with gunfire a rescue plane, reliable Chinese and American sources report.

Taken after a hot battle in which they used the ruins of their line as a fortress, the crash victims have been held since Sept. 30. The rescue plane, shot in the tail, was driven off Friday.

Previous and unavailing efforts to liberate the prisoners underscored the difficulties of a search already under way in this area wilderness for five American air force men believed to have been prisoners of the Lolo for more than two years.

The two rescue campaigns near Sichang are unrelated. That for the long-term American prisoners is being pursued by the United States army graves registration service while the Chinese government and the Chinese National Aviation Corporation are seeking their missing party of 32. The airliner was

Lauds Canada's Development Of Aerial Routes in Arctic

HAMILTON, Bermuda, (CP)—Gen. Dale V. Gifford, newly-appointed United States army commander here, said Saturday that he could not do "full justice" in relating the part Canada played in the development of aerial flying routes.

Gen. Gifford was formerly commanding general of the Alaskan division of air transport command at Edmonton.

Commander of Ladd Field at Fairbanks, Alaska, when Pearl Harbor was attacked, Gen. Gifford said if ever an example was set where two nations co-operated for a common objective, "the situation in Canada was just that."

Canada's co-operation—estimated at 100 percent and were more than willing in every case to do more than their share to make Alaska defense a success.

Gen. Gifford said the Arctic air routes developed during the war were of definite importance in post-war development, "affording as they do a much shorter distance to the Orient and other countries than other routes."

The air development of Arctic routes will open vast areas of untold potential resources and air transport is the only way that these areas can be opened without involving prohibitive cost. To back up my statement I would mention the Yellowknife development which would have been woefully retarded without air transport.

Gen. Gifford said that in 1942 and early 1943 many had labeled the proposed air routes in the far north an impossibility. No communications existed at that time except for a few "bush flies."

"But," he said, "we pushed the development until with the next three years the capacity of the Alaska route was practically unlimited. The fact that we pushed thousands of aircraft over the route to Russia, operated a transport

McGill Celebrates 125th Anniversary

MONTREAL, (CP)—Viscount Alexander Sutherland laid the cornerstone of the McGill university graduate house memorial swimming pool-rink as four-day ceremonies marking the university's 125th anniversary came to an end.

The formal cornerstone ceremony followed a memorial service in the Sir Arthur Currie memorial gymnasium beside the site of the new memorial.

The names of 8,623 McGill staff and student personnel who served in the two great wars were included in the honor and war service rolls placed in the cornerstone.

Approximately 2,500 graduates from across Canada, the United States and Great Britain have taken part in the reunion-anniversary celebrations which began Thursday and were climaxed Sunday by the fall convocation and a banquet at night.

Woman Writer Dies

ST. STEPHEN, N.S. (CP)—Mrs. A. E. Vesey died Saturday as the result of burns suffered in an accident in her home. Mrs. Vesey was a prominent writer and in 1940 was awarded the Canadian National Women's Press club memorial award.

Give Chief Scout Indian Peace Pipe

PRINCE ALBERT, (CP)—An Indian hammer head and an Indian pipe of peace were presented to Lord Rowanville, Chief Scout of the British Commonwealth, at a public rally Sunday afternoon attended by Scouts and Cubs from many northern Saskatchewan points.

Attacks Patronage In Civil Service

VANCOUVER, (CP)—William Leonard, general secretary of the Saskatchewan Civil Servants Association, told the third annual convention of the British Columbia association Saturday that the "biggest enemy of the dominion of Canada is political patronage" and said they should "stop kidding themselves about the merit system."

"Look at what Hitler succeeded in making the German civil service by means of patronage. It's no good our saying it can't happen here, it can."

Chinese civil servants' associations could "eliminate the evil" by national federation they had little hope of bettering their working conditions, he said.
